Advertising Rate Card

TASH and its members have a decades-long history of publishing innovative practices, ground breaking research and models of success that have transformed the disability field. Along with top trends in the industry, our publications offer a plethora of advertising opportunities.

Publications & Opportunities

TASH Connections is a quarterly publication received as a member benefit that keeps readers informed on best practices, family concerns, advocacy events and policy changes. Each issue contains provocative articles on breakthroughs in the disability field and challenges readers to re-think some of the toughest issues affecting people with disabilities, their families and advocates. The publication is available online to over 1,500 TASH members.

TASH Conference Program is distributed to over 1,000 attendees of the networking and advocacy event of the year - the annual TASH Conference. For nearly 40 years, the TASH Conference has been a meeting place for disability leaders, advocated, self-advocates, educators and professionals. This program is the essential in-hand guide for attendees and advertisements in the TASH Conference Program are kept as a resource throughout the year.

Job Postings through TASH are an excellent way to share an available position within the disability field. Job postings are placed on the TASH blog for 30-days and are placed in two editions of TASH in Action. TASH in Action is the bi-weekly member newsletter distributed to thousands of advocates and professionals. Each edition yields open and click-through rates well above the industry rate.
