TASH Launches New Website TASH launches new and improved website

WASHINGTON, DC – This week, TASH launched a new and improved website at www.tash.org. The website will offer visitors a more user-friendly experience.

“We’re thrilled about the new website,” said Ruthie-Marie Beckwith, TASH’s Executive Director. “We’ve worked diligently with a top-notch web development firm to ensure that we’re meeting our audience’s needs while ensuring accessibility and a user-friendly experience.”

The new website offers visitors an aesthetically pleasing design, an easy-to-navigate experience, and several accessibility features, such as text-to-speech and language translator applications.

In addition to launching the new website, TASH has launched a new member portal. The member portal offers members a Facebook-like experience where they can easily connect with each other and TASH.
