

INCLUSIVE SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

ACROSS THE LIFESPAN:
AN ETHICAL IMPERATIVE

Marlborough, MA

Why Educators & Service Providers Should Attend?

By striving for fully inclusive schools, workplaces, and communities, TASH ensures that all individuals have the opportunity to learn, work, and enjoy life amongst a diverse community of family, friends, and colleagues. TASH creates an environment where school administrators, teachers, and service-providers can learn about inclusive practices in the classroom and the community, preparing people with disabilities for success.

This year's New England Regional Conference, Inclusive School and Community Engagement Across the Lifespan: An Ethical Imperative, will highlight the importance of inclusive practices for people with significant disabilities. This full-day conference will offer educators and service providers the opportunity to:

- Learn the landscape of the field from the research and best practices perspectives
- Learn how current research on inclusion can inform innovative strategies in the field/classroom
- Hear directly from constituents/stakeholders (people with disabilities and family members)
- Connect inclusion in schools with community living and transition planning
